

Introduction to “Lingo for Leaders” ... A brief skit

Two DKG sisters talking...

“You know, Mary, it is time for our chapter’s nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the next biennium. I have heard your name being mentioned because you are such a good leader. How would you feel about being on the executive board?”

“Oh, I love the committees I’m on, but I don’t think I’m ready to be a board member. “

“I think you would be great at any of the positions, why are you hesitating?”

“There are too many things I don’t know. I hear so many words and terms at the meetings, but I’m not sure what they mean and there are so many things to learn about the Area, the State and the International parts of DKG. It seems so overwhelming.”

“I think I have just the answer for you! Have you seen this new dictionary called The ABC’s for DKG? or “Lingo for Leaders?” It has all the terms and words you might not know or need review. Look it over and let me know if it helped you with some of the DKG lingo we use. I’ll talk to you soon and see if you have changed your mind about stepping up to a leadership position.” Once you know the lingo, I think you will feel ready for an office.
